TESTIMONIALS FOR LICENCE TO THRILL

I really enjoyed the professional way the LICENCE TO THRILL storyline & content was curated, resulting in an extremely enjoyable experience for myself and my team-mates.

Blending the suspense of modern day thrillers with fast paced clues and next-steps, it challenged the team to stay focused and cohesive, while simultaneously encouraging individuals to exercise their particular strengths. e.g. one of the members was clearly good in spotting numerical and symbol patterns, another was good at calling-out potential blind spots and the "leader" kept everyone moving with good time-keeping and reminders. This allowed the sum of the team to be greater than its parts. I highly recommend this virtual experience to corporate teams or groups looking for an experience which is fun, intellectual, and also allowing diverse strengths, creativity and open communications of the team/group to come to the fore.

Koh Su Hock, Head of Business & Partners - Asia, Dropbox

LICENCE TO THRILL is a fun team experience that allowed us to get to know more about our team members. The puzzles and challenges exercised the mind but were not too difficult to crack, thanks to the strengths of different team members.

Recommend this virtual game for corporate teams and even social fun with friends.

Clarice Tan, Regional Head Change Management APAC, TP ICAP

LICENCE TO THRILL is a great teaming activity without focussing on traditional teaming exercises. It takes you back to childhood make-believe character games! The focus was on each other and second at solving the game. Before you know it, you know your fellow players better and finished the game before the clock runs out. Secret mission: Teaming! Thank you!

Zahira Lerebours, Administrative Manager, Ernst & Young LLP, USA

We didn't know what to expect when we applied for our Licence to Thrill. It didn't disappoint! Thrown headlong into a multimedia virtual experience where we were expected to save the world as a team of superspies, the level of immersion was high as the facilitators and materials presented put us into the action from the get-go. A clever mix of entertainment, puzzles, teaching and team-building exercises blended nicely to deliver an enlightening, exciting and hilarious experience where we were forced to work against the clock to gather clues, solve mysteries and stay in character. We recommend this for teams looking to help members know each other better and for organisations which are not averse to improving teamwork and building rapport in a fun way!

Byron Xavier, Managing Director, Xavier & Associates LLC, Singapore

Dr Agni Kumar Bose, Resident Dermatologist, King Edward Memorial Hospital, Mumbai

An interactive program that engages participants. There were lots of laughter, challenges that were thought provoking, and overall very good content. It was a great way to bring the team together to build relationships and rapport in a fun environment. The time flew by quickly and everyone felt reinvigorated after the session. Working virtually all the time can be exhausting. LICENCE TO THRILL definitely helped us as a team bond and learn more about each other despite being virtual.!
