"Wendy had deep insights and knowledge. She inspired the group and shared great examples and stories."

Singapore Council of Women's Organisations

Wendy is passionate about helping people to harness their potential and perform at their best. She has more than 15 years of experience working in learning and development across a diverse range of industries in various multi-international companies such as Olympus, The Body Shop Asia Pacific and Procter and Gamble.

She was the Summit Director of Rise Through the Ranks, a global online leadership conference that reached out to thousands of executives from over 70 countries.

Wendy is currently the Head of Strategic Solutions at Influence Solutions. She holds a certificate in Organisation Development from Baruch College, New York.

MASTER TRAINER & FACILITATOR

Wendy loves building up leaders and training professionals. She has mentored, coached and conducted train-the-trainer sessions for both new and experienced training professionals and leaders.

An experienced facilitator with the ability to engage multi-cultural audiences, Wendy has delivered transformational keynotes and training sessions in Singapore, India, Malaysia, Thailand, Indonesia, Vietnam, Taiwan, Japan, Korea, Hong Kong, China, Philippines and Sri Lanka.

ORGANISATIONAL DEVELOPMENT EXPERT

With over 15 years of learning & development experience in fast moving industries such as retail and FMCG, Wendy has helped to set up talent initiatives across Asia Pacific that create and nurture a culture of engagement, agility and peak performance, in a climate of constant change and competition.

Throughout her corporate career, she has won numerous business awards recognizing her expertise in the area of learning and development. One prestigious award was the Procter & Gamble CEO Award which is only bestowed to global top performers.

EXECUTIVE PRESENCE EVANGELIST

Wendy has been instrumental in unleashing the power of executive presence for diverse audiences and executive level leaders. She has worked with multi-national corporations like Symrise, Certis Cisco, Watsons, Tesco, Swarovski Crystal; as well as educational institutes like Nanyang Technological University, Singapore Polytechnic, and the Institute of Technical Education.

She has honed the art and science of nurturing an effective personal and professional brand. Wendy is a staunch believer that people can leverage on the transformative power of projecting their best by building up their confidence, credibility and communication skills.

"Knowledgeable & used practical live case studies to discuss and apply. It was very useful."
